Dear John,

You have not responded in any meaningful way to my recent letters about your planned use of my materials.

It is for this reason that I write, for as I do not want to be confronted by a fait accompli, so also do I not want you to be under any apprehension.

I am quite serious about those things of which I did write.

I want no interference in or jeopardy to the work in which I have succeeded when you and everyone else failed.

I want no use of my materials of any kind, in any way.

I asked this assurance of you and you have been silent.

Unless I receive it in a week, I will be forced to do what I can to prevent this use.

I would prefer that this not be necessary, as I think, if it is necessary, you will also.

Please do not force me to protect my work and myself. If I am forced to, I most assuredly will.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
